RECORDED IN THE PUBLIC RECORDS.

CHAS. M. MEACHAM.

DESCRIPTION OF A YEAR IN ADVANCE.

THE FAIR AT HOPKINSVILLE, KENTUCKY, JULY 25th to AUGUST 1st, 1893.

FRIDAY, JULY 25th, 1893.

Prizes paid the week and Saturday had to be given.

The fair attendance at the Fair is nearly 60,000 up to date.

The widow of the late Maj. Al Mc

Groves has a candidate for superintendent of schools in Graves county.

More than 5,000 persons have been suspected for further prize

Money & but only 100 have been actually drawn from the rolls.

A net saving of $110,000 has been made in the last two months by paying the pension rolls of fraudulent claimants and the good work has continued.

Poway Ball, of Henderson, and the Quigley, of Paducah, will both go to the Legislature without opposition in their own party. The former will be candidate for speaker.

That race for appellate judge in our adjoining district between Bill Yort and Willie Lewis will be a summer. Both of them are members of the Legislature without opposition in their own party. The former will be candidate for speaker.

The senatorial race is made up in the Princeton district. Sam Sann is the Democratic nominee and W. J.

Deloe is a Republican opponent.

The district is close enough for the party to endeavor. Nunn's election, if it makes a majority.

The report that the newly appointed superintendent in Kentucky will have no difficulty in finding enough Democrats to fill the positions under them proves to be true. This continued rejection of patriots must be placed to every level of his country.—

Journalism Journal.

Another handsome increase in the school per capita is announced. It is $2.25 this year against $2.20 in 1902 and $2.25 in 1901. This is for both whites and blacks. Democratic Kentucky turns the colored children with scholarships and places them on exactly the same footing with white children.

woman she is as true from free as any other.

the uncertainty of his wife, who was sitting in a stalling mass

Monday morning, when Mr. Dan M.

Sturley, the veteran saloon man, dropped dead while sitting on his front porch. Mr. Taylor had been down in town to receive the law to fill the vacancy in his saloon on Seventh street, in the rear of the Bank of Hopkinsville. After attending to this business he returned home, where he was covering a pleasant manner with his wife on the porch. Shortly after 10 o'clock, Mr. Taylor went into the house and his wife remained on the porch alone. At 11:30 o'clock he pulled out his watch to consult the time without a moment's warning tumbled over from his chair dead.

A small colored boy saw him fall and quickly gave the alarm. When he reached the spot, his wife had gone out. He still held his watch in his nervous hand. The dial of the timepiece showed the time to be 11:30 o'clock. His wife had not rested had recorded not only the hour but the day and the hour of his death.

Mr. Taylor was an old and well-known citizen. He was 69 years old and had been in business for over 30 years. He was a member of the Knights of the Ku Klux Klan and had accumulated a comfortable estate. He had no family excepting his wife and a son who lives on Seventh street. His funeral service was held yesterday evening at seven o'clock from the residence of his wife. The interment took place in the cemetery with the honors of the order of Odd Fellows of which he was a member.

Hood's Cures

Four liquor licenses have been granted to parties in Princeton, and it is understood that there will be two more applicants. The matter of control is still in the courts, but the owners of the saloons have decided to go ahead and take the consequences.

The license was granted to the place. The police force will be increased and preparations are being made to maintain good order in the town at all hazards.

The freight wreck near Madisonville last week was more serious than was at first reported. Fifteen box cars loaded with watermelons, po-atoes, etc., were derailed and demolished, together with their contents and had to be burned. The wreck was caused by a defective axle on one of the cars. The train was bound for a considerable distance and it took the "wrecker" twelve hours to handle the debris and clear the track. The loss of the railroad company will reach $10,000. The train was jammed and caused injury to the freight cars.
